

Christopher M. Liebold

Objective

To learn the subject matter to its fullest in the hopes of becoming a knowledgeable person and professor.

Experience

2004 – Present University of Kentucky Lexington, KY

Teaching Assistant

- Supervise safety of students in a lab atmosphere.
- Grade a variety of homework assignments, lab reports, quizzes and tests.
- Delivered lectures on a variety of chemistry subjects. This also includes preparing the PowerPoint presentations for the lectures.

2001-2004 Nielsen Media Research Dunedin, FL

Training Assistant

- Helped assist the trainer in preparing research interviews in studies done by Nielsen.
- Coached research interviewers on one-on-one bases to help further their skills.
- Trained modules when asked by the trainer.

1998-2000 City of Clearwater Clearwater, FL

Seasonal Camp Counselor

- Provided a safe and fun atmosphere for children ranging from 7 years of age to 13 years of age.
- Organized activities and events for the campers, such as Summer Olympics.
- Worked with other counselors to organize sporting events and arts and crafts.

Education

2004-Present University of Kentucky Lexington, KY

- Currently enrolled in the Ph.D. Chemistry program.
- Advisor: Dr. Stephen M. Holmes
- President of the Graduate Student Association for the Chemistry Department.

- Student member of the American Chemical Society

2002-2004 University of South Florida Tampa, FL

- Phi Sigma Theta National Honor Society member.
- Member of an intramural soccer (finished 2nd place) and softball teams.
- Received Bachelor's of Science in Chemistry.

2001-2002 St. Petersburg College Clearwater, FL

- Received an Associates of Science degree

2000-2001 Erskine College Due West, SC

- Member of the Beta Beta Beta club.
- Member of the Erskine Entertainment Board.

Interests

Chemistry, food chemistry, teaching, cooking, golf, soccer, and writing poetry.